

Signal & Advertiser

DALTON, GA., SEPTEMBER 7, 1877

We have associated with us in the management of THE SIGNAL, Mr. B. J. Davis, who will, during with this issue, have charge of the editorial department. We have great confidence in his ability as a public writer, and congratulate ourselves and the reading public in securing Mr. Davis' services. Many of our readers know him personally, and we "congratulate him" with him; hence it is unnecessary for us to enter into anything like an introductory to that class but to the "outside public," we would say that his editorial labors will speak for themselves, as the fruits of his well-formed mind and ready pen can be discerned in these columns.

With this issue THE SIGNAL enters its twenty-seventh year. And with this issue we begin our career as editor.

It is customary on such occasions to say something in the way of a salutation; we, however, will say but little at present; and even in the future we propose to make our work speak for itself as much as possible. When we chance to have anything to say, we will say it as few words as possible, but always say exactly what we mean, even if we find it necessary to speak right out in meeting.

In the management of our department of this paper, it shall be our purpose to make it readable and interesting. Our first and greatest aim shall be, the development of the natural and material resources of Lumpkin County. Earnest attention will be given to our gold mines and the general mining interests of the country. For the advancement and improvement of our people and country, our work shall be zealous and never failing. All that within our power lies shall be done to build up the North Georgia Agricultural College, and to advance the cause of education. We eschew politics, but will act independently, and always talk and write freely and fearlessly in the cause of truth, justice and right. We have an abiding faith in the honest yeomanry of this country and will labor hard to make our paper acceptable to the farmers, mechanics and laboring men generally.

Post Master General Key in his peregrinations with the Presidential party through the New England States is so pleased with the Down Easter that he almost wished to be one himself. What a pity we have not the power to transmogrify him! What a beautiful picture he would make, as a galvanized Yankee, going about selling patent clothes wringers and wooden nutmegs to the poor disressed colored brethren of East Tennessee.

In our next issue we will publish a report upon the mines of the county and in every edition thereafter report mining progress. It is our intention to make this a mining journal. To this end we solicit the attention of our miners, and request them, each and every one, to give us a truthful report of their operations, weekly, by Wednesday of each week. We will take pleasure in visiting the mines, as soon and as often as convenient.

The Supreme Court of the New York has decided that J. C. Ayer & Co., of Lowell, have the sole right to use the words CHEMIST PECTORAL for a medicine, and has issued an injunction against F. V. Rushon, of New York City, for selling Rushon's Cherry Pectoral or Cherry Pectoral Lozenges, or any other use of the name to deceive the public. This decision of the high court includes all dealers who sell any similar article. — Port Jefferson (L. L.) Leader.

Our business change was made too late to change the name or head of the paper this week. In our next issue we will drop "THE SIGNAL & ADVERTISER" and return to our first love, THE MOUNTAIN SIGNAL.

The Turks and Russians had a desperate and bloody fight on the 21st of August, which resulted in a decided victory for the Russians.

New York has had a wholesale fire. The loss is considerable.

Brigham Young,

N. G. A. College.

The great Mormon prophet is dead. For nearly half a century more has been said and written probably, about Brigham Young than any other man in America. In many respects he was certainly a great man—or one of the most noted men of his day and time. Ever feared and loved by his flock, he has swayed and ruled them with a most impious will, both religiously and politically. His death creates a vacancy that no man can fill, and it's devoutly to be hoped that his church will go to ruin, and that it, like their dead prophet, will soon be numbered with the things that were.

Supreme Court.

From the Supreme Court decisions as published in the Constitution of 29th ult., rendered at the August Term, 1877, we make the following extract:

James Farmer, trustee, vs. Jesse Me Donald, Trespass, from Lumpkin, JACKSON, J.

1. Lots of land covered by deed to a minor son are not the property of the father, so as to authorize the latter to convey to another the right to overflow such lots, though the father may have exercised other general acts of ownership over the land, the deed to the soner having been legally recorded.

2. A parol easement to overflow land by adding eighteen inches to the height of a dam twelve feet high, will not, after such dam is washed away, entitle the transferee of the easement to erect a new dam sixteen feet eleven inches high, but such transferee will be responsible in damages for the overflow caused by the new dam.

3. The amount of damage is a question for the jury, and where the evidence, though conflicting, is sufficient to sustain the verdict, the court will not reverse the presiding judge in refusing to grant a new trial on the ground that the verdict is against the weight of evidence. Judgment affirmed.

W. P. Price, for plaintiff in error; Wier, Boyd; Frank Haranson, for defendant.

The Governor for the use etc., vs. J. N. Craig et al. Motion to set aside judgment to forfeit recognizance of $500. From Feminist.

JACKSON, J.

1. Defendants in error signed a recognizance for the appearance of the defendant, in the usual form. He appeared and was found guilty and sentenced. At the same term of the court, he moved for a new trial, and the motion being overruled, he brought the case to this court by bill of exceptions, and exceeded the sentence or judgment of the court below by giving new bond to appear and abide the final judgment in the superior court. This court affirmed the judgment refusing the new trial. On the return of the remitter affirming the judgment, the defendant did not appear to answer final judgment in the superior court; whereupon sicca facias was regularly issued against the sureties on the first bond; they failed to answer, and their recognizance was forfeited. At a subsequent term, within the statute of limitations, a motion was made to set aside this judgment of forfeiture, and was granted; and the state excepted to the latter judgment and brought the case here.

Held, first, that the supercedes bond transferred the custody of the prisoner from his bail on the first bond to his bail on the supercedes bond, and therefore the forfeit of the first recognizance was illegal.

Held, second, that though the securities did not appear and answer the sicca facias, yet as all the facts before recited were of record, and made one record of the entire case, the court was bound to inspect it before granting the judgment of forfeiture; and that judgment appearing on the face of the record to be illegal, the motion to set it aside was properly made and granted. See 50 Ga. 539.

Judgment affirmed.

Thomas F. Greer, solicitor general by H. P. Bell and Frank Haranson, for plaintiff in error.

W. T. Crane, by W. P. Price for defendants.

There has been so much rain in Iowa the past summer that the grass happens wear India rubber boots fence. When the youth of my section shall hear of this act, there will be a natural outburst of gratitude towards those divine beings whose hearts of these people that will be impressed.

In behalf of the students and parents of this college, I wish I could place another star in the crown of their honor, but I cannot. Be their names immortal and their happiness commensurate with their immortality. Since meeting in this convention and conferring with the delegates I find many of them wholly unacquainted with my section, and many of them ask me, "where is Dahlonega?" At the I am not surprised, and briefly answer their question. Dahlonega where the college is located, lies twenty-five miles north of Gainesville, the nearest point to the Richmond Air-Line railroad and ten miles south of the Blue Ridge, whose majestic bow arches the northern horizon, whose surrounding scenery is picturesque and grand, and a temperate climate and cool and peaceful summer. The town has a population of six or seven hundred inhabitants, with average intelligence and good moral society, which at last, constitute the true and only firm basis of civil liberty. The little county of Lumpkin, where the college is located, is surrounded by a group of fifteen or twenty counties constituting Northeast Georgia. In looking into the social condition of our state, I find our state debt is about $11,000,000, three-fourths of which has been incurred by granting state aid to build railroads in southern, middle and northwestern Georgia, thereby developing the resources of these sections, putting up wealthy and populous cities and towns, and increasing our population. But not a dollar has ever been expended for this purpose in northwestern Georgia. That section has been long neglected in the shadow of darkness. Some rays of light are beginning to pierce this region through the instrumentality of our college, and common school enterprises. And our late mineral developments in that locality are beginning to attract capital and intelligent men. At our late commencement of the North Georgia Agricultural College, which took place the first week in July last; Dr. George Colquitt, Bishop Pierce and other distinguished Georgians from different portions of our state, were present and witnessed the exercises of the occasion and expressed themselves well pleased with the progress of the institution, and their faith in its future success.

The Presidents, we think we are entitled to an apology and support in all we ask in this behalf. Sir, when the late struggle for southern independence was made, and the call was made for men to fight the battles of our country, the mountaineers of my section rallied to their country's standard, and the cemetery at Dahlonega and many of the battle-fields in Virginia and in the west attest their valor and patriotism. After the war was over, and the constitution and government of 1868 came into existence, the people of my county (Lumpkin) for ratification or rejection, a decided majority put their veto upon it. Sir, they have never yet bowed the knee to the Baal of reconstruction nor kissed the rod that smote them.

I thought it proper to say this much about the people of my section, to let you know that they are not scoundrels.

My constituents sent me to this convention, as I understood it, to aid you in destroying this old hulk (constitution of 1868) made by our enemies, and to build a new one, according to our will and pleasure, for the good of the people of Georgia.

This should be our single purpose and effort, so that when it is submitted to the constituents, for ratification it will be accepted and perpetuated to generations yet to come, carrying with it the blessings of good government and happiness to all.

Mr. President, we already hear of some croakers prejudicing our work, and saying the constitution which this convention is making will not be ratified by the people. What are the grounds of this wild conjecture?

I have just learned from one of the trustees of the state university on this floor that board can only make their appropriations annually to the college. That they do not feel authorized to make a permanent appropriation to the college. This you see, have the right to do without any substantial basis. But I will also say that I have just been informed by the board of trustees of the state university that they had a meeting in this city last night and appropriated to our college $10,000 additional to the $2,500. I thank them kindly for that.

In this connection I feel it my duty further to say that the distinguished gentleman from Wilkes, Mr. Toombs, and other gentlemen who are trustees for what is left of the Gilmer school fund donated to our college $10,000 annually about $1,000 on behalf of the young and old people of Georgia, and especially of the desolate section I represent, I desire now, here in this presence, to give some expression of gratitude to those gentlemen for this act of benef-

We have received the 2nd number of the North Georgia, published at Gainesville, by Estes & Blas. It is a spicylet sheet, well printed and ably edited, and we wish it a prosperous journey through life.

Note.

Our old friend, Henry Cohen, has added, and is running in connection with his Confectionery, a first class Bakery. He will send cakes, every morning to Dahlonega, on all orders by the mail hack.

A meeting of the members of the Lumpkin County Bible Society, as per announcement, was held in the Methodist Church last Sabbath evening, and proceeded to the election of officers and the transaction of other business. After the election of the Rev. Mr. Venable as President, the meeting adjourned to meet again on the third Sunday night in this month.

Boot and Shoe Shop.

M. R. Moore, Esq., waltzes to the front and calls his beaver to the portion of the public who are in the habit of wearing boots, shoes, etc., with a brand new shop, sewing machine and advertisement. To the latter the attention of the public is respectfully directed. His shop has been newly painted, which is quite a set-off to College street. Mack's work has a reputation of its own, and it would but consume time and space for us to attempt to add to it. We bespeak for him a liberal share of patronage.

Don't Put the Poor Working man Down!

This is the title of the greatest motto song ever published in America. Written and composed by Bob Newcomb. Will be sung in almost every theatre in the land. PRICE 35 cents per Copy. If you cannot get it from your regular Music Dealer, send to the publisher, F. W. HELMICK, No. 50 West 4th St., CINCINNATI, O.

Let capital shake hands with labor. Let the poor have the bread that they earn.

For surely they need every penny. — Is a lesson quite easy to learn?

Remember the poor love their children. So give them a smile, not a frown, Live, and let live, be your motto.

Don't put the poor working man down.

Public Speaking.

During the recess of court for dinner Tuesday, Col. Boyd and Dr. Underwood orated upon their action and labors in making and framing the new constitution. From their remarks, we are inclined to think they consider themselves entitled to the praise of "well done, good and faithful servants." They certainly seem proud of their banting. While they do not consider the instrument perfect, they think it worthy of a unanimous ratification. And such, in all probability, it will receive in this section of country. So far, we have heard of no opposition to it. At present we have not time, and in fact, are not prepared to discuss the document, but between this time and the election for ratification or rejection, we will bestow upon it our earnest attention.

At the conclusion of the remarks of the honorable delegates, our young and popular friend, Frank L. Haralson, Esq., was called for and made a few eloquent remarks in favor of ratification and in praise of Georgia's greatest statesman, Gen. Robert Toombs.

Dahlonega.

The county seat of Lumpkin, has improved wonderfully in the past few years. The old buildings which were decayed and failing in have all been repaired and repainted, looking new and bright, as in antebellum times. The principal merchants, such as Uncle Arch Wimpy, Sutton Bros., Gurley & Bros., Hand & Co., Burnside & Bros., J. A. Parker, Barney Meaders and Goodman Hughes, are as sound and substantial as any in the State, and their stores are filled with heavy stock of goods adapted to the mountain people, and their business is on a firm basis.

The Agricultural College, which has now an endowment sufficient to place it on a sure and permanent foundation, is one of the institutions of the State.

The golf m's near the town are turning out more money than at any time since their discovery in proportion to the number of laborers engaged in the work.

All industries throughout the surrounding country are improving and expanding, and we hope to see old Lumpkin a bright spot in the constellation of Georgia in the near future — Gainesville Southern.

FRANK W. HALL.

The SIGNAL half of this sheet is twenty-seven years old.

Lumpkin Superior Court.

Court met pursuant to adjournment. His Honor, George N. Lester Judge, presiding, and Thomas F. Greer, Esq., Solicitor General. Mr. Greer is in fact the Solicitor General of the Blue Ridge Circuit, and from a close observation of his official career we are prepared to endorse him heartily. Oftn Honor, the presiding Judge we might go farther. Who knows George Lester (nearly every man in this country does), that does not feel proud of him? When Lumpkin County was in its incipiency, he was one of us. Here he began his legal and eventful career and here to day in his vigorous manhood we have him as the able and dignified Judge of the Blue Ridge Circuit.

Among the lawyers present, we were pleased to meet the Hon. H. P. Bell, our immediate Representative in Congress, and his son George, a youthful lamb of the law, both of Cumming. Frank L. Haralson, our worthy and efficient State Librarian is also here. From Gainesville we have the Hon. Jasper N. Dorsey, Messrs. Perley, Findley, Looper, S. C. Dunlap and James M. Towery. From Cleveland Marion G. Boyd, Esq., familiarly known as Bud, Mr. Kingsley and the Hon. A. F. Underwood, the latter is, also, lawyer, preacher, doctor, &c., &c., a man of varied attainments, capable of being a representative man in many particulars.

From Morgan Geo. B. Neal Esq., the representative of THE SIGNAL in the good old county of Fannin, From Canton Mr. Pace. From Marietta, Col. Charles D. Phillips. From Atlanta, Spencer Smith, John A. Wimpy and Col. H. P. Farrow U. S. Attorney-General for the State of Georgia. Our local bar was represented by Bev. A. Martin, Esq., Rufus H. Baker Esq., Hon. W. P. Price and Col. Wier Boyd.

We also notice in attendance many of the good citizens of this and adjoining counties; among the, Hon. John Hockenberry of Dawson San Stevens, Jeff Vindley and Dr. Stephenson of Hall. Major Logan, Dr. Mooyan iJohn Logan of Whit, et al.

Grand Juries called and sworn, and the organization perfected by making W. A. Burnside Foreman, Eugene H. Beck Secretary, and Judge Deck special bailiff.

Petit Juries were regularly impaneled. Then to perfect the organization, the old war-horse, Hon. King was selected caller of the Court a position he has held with credit and honor for thirty-two consecutive years, a part of which time he has been the high sheriff of the county. Of course, Bill Satterfield, sheriff, and Joe Parker, clerk, were at their posts.

His Honor's charge to the Grand Jury, while general, was very strict. The entire penal code was given in charge, and the jurors' oaths specially commented upon, while his charge in relation to roads was eloquent and beautiful. As we propose to make a special article in our next issue about this charge to the Grand Jury, we omit the details of it for the present.

On Monday a number of common law cases were called and continued "till after dinner." Also several appeal cases. Several cases were tried on Tuesday the most of them against the Hon. John A. Parker, executor General H. W. Rely, decedent; all resulting in favor of defendant.

Senators and Representatives are elected every two years.

The first election for members of the General Assembly, under this Constitution, shall take place on the first Wednesday in December, 1877; the second election for the same shall be held on the first Wednesday in October, 1880, and subsequent elections biennially, on that day, until the day of election is changed by law.

Legislature meets first after ratification, on the first Wednesday of November, 1878, unless the Governor shall deem it fit for the public good, to call it together sooner.

The general appropriation bill shall embrace nothing except appropriations fixed by previous laws and the ordinary expenses of the executive legislative and judicial departments of the government.

All other appropriations shall be made by separate bills—each embracing only one subject matter.

An account of receipts and expenditures of public money must be published every three months, and Ex-President M. Thiers of France is dead.

Porter Spring and Neighborhood.

A little fracas occurred in that vicinity of Porter Spring a few days ago, which resulted in one of the belligerents receiving a heavy blow on the leg with a stone.

There are quite a number of visitors here now.

One of the visitors here was arrested one day last week by the constable of this district throwing a little boy out of the ten pin ally house. The case was settled.

Quite an interesting meeting has just closed at Pleasant Hill Church, a short distance from this place. We did not have the pleasure of attending, yet we hope great good was accomplished.

—We enjoyed a few hours stay at Louisville camp meeting, which has just drawn to a close. A large number of people were in attendance during which time, we listened to several able and earnest sermons by distinguished divines. Many professed religion.

—Yahoo Church will soon be completed.

—We learn that J. E. Neal & Bro. will commence the erection of a new store house, at an early day, on what is known as the Corbin place. This will be a great convenience to the people in that neighborhood.

—Sugar cane in this section is ripening fast, and will soon be ready for scratching.

—The Post Office at Porter Spring has been fitted up in regular "town style" Mr. Harris was appointed p.m. some time ago, and has now received his commission, but has not, as yet, accepted it.

The Changes.

We publish below a synopsis of all the important changes in the new Constitution, that our readers may examine and judge for themselves as to their merits:

—No money shall ever be taken from the public treasury, directly or indirectly, in aid of any church, sect or denomination of religionists, or of any sectarian institution.

Lobbyism, is declared to be a crime and the general assembly shall enforce this provision by suitable legislation.

The general assembly shall have the power to provide for the punishment of fraud; and shall provide, by law, for reaching the property of the debtor concealed from the creditor.

Qualification of voters.—Must be a citizen, 21 years old; shall have resided in the State one year, and county six months, and shall have paid all taxes which may hereafter be required of him, and that he may have had an opportunity of paying agreeably to law. Soldiers stationed in the State; those who have been convicted in any court of competent jurisdiction, of treason, embezzlement, or of public funds, malfeasance in office, bribery or larceny, or of any crime involving moral turpitude, punishable by confinement in the penitentiary; idiots and insane persons are prohibited from holding office or voting.

The general assembly shall have the power to provide for the sale of property belonging to any person, or persons, who have failed to pay taxes due to the State, and to sell the same for the amount due, and to notify all persons interested to be and appear at the place where the sale is to be made to show cause if any they have, why said order should not be granted, and to hold the sale on the property of B. W. Hughes to satisfy the judgment of the court. —See the Governor vs. J. L. Thompson, Plaintiff, and H. V. Hughes, defendant. —J. NATHAN PARKS, Sheriff.

The Governor cannot remit any part of a sentence for offenses against the State after conviction, except in cases of treason and impeachment. He is required to furnish each session of the General Assembly with a list of all persons pardoned, the offence changed, etc.

The total cost of the clerical force of the Executive Department, shall not exceed six thousand dollars.

The Secretary of State, Comptroller of the Treasury, Auditor of Accounts, and Surveyor General, shall be elected by the people at the time the Governor is elected.

Salary of the Treasurer, $2,000; Salary of Clerk of Treasury, $1,600; Salary Comptroller General, $2,000; all Clerical expenses, $4,000; Secretary of State, $2,000; Clerk, $1,000.

Judge of Supreme Court shall hold their offices six years; Judge of the Superior Courts four years. They shall be elected by the legislature. The Attorney General shall be elected by the people, and hold his office two years.

The General Assembly may provide for an appeal from one jury in the Superior and City courts to another.

Jury Courts shall sit monthly at regular times and places; but in all cases there may be an appeal to a jury in said court.

The most experienced, intelligent and upright men are to be made Grand Juries, and intelligent and upright men are to be selected to serve as Traverse Juries.

Costs in Supreme Court shall not exceed ten dollars in each case. Corporations are to be taxed.

No debt created to supply deficiencies shall ever exceed two hundred thousand dollars.

When money is borrowed by the State the act authorizing it shall specify the purposes for which it is to be used.

Also the laws passed at each session of the General Assembly.

No bill or resolution appropriating public money, shall become a law, unless on its passage, the yeas and nays in each house are recorded.

Each bill before it becomes a law, shall be passed by a majority of all the members elected to each house of the General Assembly, and it shall in every instance so appear in the journal.

All special or local bills shall be introduced in the House of Representatives during the first fifteen days of the session. No such bill shall pass unless notice of the intention to apply therefor shall have been published in the locality where the matter or thing to be affected may be situated, at least thirty days prior to the introduction of said bill, and evidence of such notice having been published must be produced to the General Assembly before the act is passed.

The General Assembly is prohibited from relieving principals and securities on forfeited recognizances.

The General Assembly shall not authorize the construction of a Street railroad in any town or city without the consent of the corporate authority.

Whenever the Constitution requires a two-thirds vote on any question the yeas and nays must be recorded.

The clerical expenses of the Senate shall not exceed sixty dollars per day for each session; nor those of the House of Representatives seventy dollars per day for each session.

Per diem of members of the General Assembly shall not exceed four dollars, and mileage shall not exceed ten cents per mile. The President of the Senate, and Speaker of the House may be paid not exceeding seven dollars per day.

The General Assembly is empowered to regulate freight and passenger tariffs and prevent unjust discriminations.

No railroad shall pay any rebate or bonus in the nature thereof to mislead or deceive the public as to real rates charged for freight or passenger rates.

Lobbyism, is declared to be a crime and the general assembly shall enforce this provision by suitable legislation.

The Governor shall hold his office two years, and is not eligible after the expiration of a second term, for four years. Salary $3,000 per year. (The reduction of term and salary does not apply to our present Executive.)

The Governor cannot remit any part of a sentence for offenses against the State after conviction, except in cases of treason and impeachment. He is required to furnish each session of the General Assembly with a list of all persons pardoned, the offence changed, etc.

The total cost of the clerical force of the Executive Department, shall not exceed six thousand dollars.

The Secretary of State, Comptroller of the Treasury, Auditor of Accounts, and Surveyor General, shall be elected by the people at the time the Governor is elected.

Salary Judges Supreme Court $3,000; Salary Judges Superior Courts, $2,000; Salary Attorney General, $2,000.

The General Assembly may provide for an appeal from one jury in the Superior and City courts to another.

Jury Courts shall sit monthly at regular times and places; but in all cases there may be an appeal to a jury in said court.

The most experienced, intelligent and upright men are to be made Grand Juries, and intelligent and upright men are to be selected to serve as Traverse Juries.

Costs in Supreme Court shall not exceed ten dollars in each case. Corporations are to be taxed.

No debt created to supply deficiencies shall ever exceed two hundred thousand dollars.

When money is borrowed by the State the act authorizing it shall specify the purposes for which it is to be used.

money so obtained is to be used, and it shall be used for no other purpose.

The credit of the State shall not be pledged or loaned to any individual, company, corporation or association, and the State shall not become a joint owner or stock holder in any company, association or corporation.

The debt of no municipal corporation or county shall ever exceed one percent of the assessed value of all taxable property therein.

The General Assembly shall have no power to appropriate money to pay the principal or interest of the bonds of this State, which have been pronounced illegal, null and void, by the General Assembly and by the people on the first day of May, 1877.

The bonded debt of the State shall never be increased except to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, or defend the State in time of war.

The proceeds of the sale of the Western and Atlantic, and Macon and Birmingham railroads shall be devoted to the payment of the debt of the State.

A sinking fund of one hundred thousand dollars, shall be raised annually by taxation and paid on the public debt.

The Treasurer and Comptroller General shall make quarterly reports to the Governor, showing the financial condition of the State, which shall be published.

No extra compensation shall be paid to said officer after the service has been rendered.

The office of State Printer is abolished, and the public printing is to be let to the lowest bidder.

No new county shall be made.

Old county organizations may be dissolved, and merged with contiguous counties.

Wanted to Get on the Jury.

Presently the stillness of the court room was interrupted by the entrance of a man, who came in with a shuffling, uneasy step, and with his hat in his hand. He halted, leaning against the railing. Nobody took the slightest notice of him, however. At last he took courage and spoke:

'Is th' Judge in?'
The el'cum did it by, like his Honor.

'Well, what do you want?'

'I'm looking for a job, y'rs Hon'r. I've been looking for w'k over a month.'

'There's nothing for you here.'

'I thought you occassionally gave jurnymen jobs. I don't read newspaper, and been' a stranger in town I haven't got any pr'fession in anybody. A parl' of mine wrote down to me at Reno, last week, and said I that the jury business up there was brisk an' would pay to come up. As I'm a stranger to y'ns, and a little h'ril up, I'll stink in and see if for a cruse or two for half price, an' if you see what I kin do.'

'What are your main qualifications?'

'I'm a good hand at my trade.'

'My str'g suit is making a jury agree.'

'No jury ever get hung if I'm on 'em.' I just lay low till they let me first ballot, then jins the majority an' argue the rest into it. I can disown a lawyer talking. I can show 'em points they never tumbled to before.' Some times I have to use force, but seldom. Once down at Tennessee, in a murder case, there was a couple of fellers standin' out agin hangin', and after arguing with 'em as smooth and gentlemanly as I could for over a quarter of an hour, I went for 'em with chins, and by the time I'd busted half a dozen pieces of furniture over 'em they was glad to come in with a verdict of "Murder" in the first degree and the fellow was hung long after ward.'

In these Justice courts I can get on a jury, an' if I'll just give me a w'k as to how you want the case to go, I'll guarantee to fitch in the verdict you want, or n'take a cent.'

The man was told to drop around again in a day or so and they would try and make a vacancy for him.

To do so, however, some reg'lar jurymen will probably have to be discharged.—Kansas City Chron- icle.

Monday morning a serious diffi- culty occurred between Mr. Charles Joiner, of Taylor county, and Mr. Perry Weston, of Sunter county.

This difficulty occurred at the grill mill of Mr. Weston, about seven miles from Butler. Mr. Weston received two very severe wounds with a pocket knife in the hands of Mr. Charles Joiner. One of the wounds was inflicted in the right shoulder, the other in the back just below the shoulder blade.

Carl Schurz cannot find anyone to take the position as commissioner to interview old Sitting Bull. The place goes begging because everyone to whom it is offered bears Custer's fate in mind, and fears that the old savage will become excited, and go to scalping. It is also hinted that whenever the commission is appointed, its first act will be to endeavor to civilize General Bull by teaching him how light his fire with coal oil.

B. J. DAVIS, Editor:

DAHLONEGA, GA., SEPTEMBER 21, 1877

A Card.

Thankful, duly grateful, for the encouragement I have received since launching my bark in editorial waters, for every kind word spoken or written of me, I am indifferent to the little flings made at me by some of the company into which I have drifted. As to my military record, I am not ashamed that I wore "the gray," and to a true Confederate, there is no prouder title than to have been a soldier in the ranks. That I lost my leg in battle was my misfortune. I repeat I am not insensible to kindness and sow once and, for all time, I thank my friends for favors, past and to come. With a tear for those who have loved me, and a sigh for those who hate us, adieu!

I am yours truly,

B. J. DAVIS

A San Francisco import of sugar accidentally omitted dates for duty one million pounds of sugar. The accident saved him $12,000, until the Treasury Commission accidentally discovered the accident; and the importers then apologized for the oversight and paid up.

Our thanks are hereby returned to "The Constitution Publishing Company" for "Convention sketches," and to James P. Harrison & Co. Publishers & State Printers, Atlanta, Ga., for a copy of the new "Constitution."

The yellow fever is raging at Fernandina, Fla. Up to the 17th inst., there had only been three or four deaths a day, but the disease was spreading. The Mayor had telegraphed to Savannah for medical aid and nurses, and the call was liberally responded to.

2 J. Turnbull and 3 J. Sheppard are candidates for the Legislature in Banks County. Hon. J. J. Turnbull is an experienced Legislator and a very popular in this section of country. Mr. J. J. J. Sheppard will certainly have to spread himself to win the race.

We have not heard of a man in this county who wants to be a candidate for the Legislature. We are afraid it will take the "sharp and quick" work of a Returning Board to count us out a couple of candidates. As a kind of favor we suggest the names of Capt. A. J. Reese and Capt. J. W. Woodward.

Atlanta or Milledgeville? Which will you vote for? Atlanta is young, prosperous and flourishing, full of hope, with a bright future in store. Milledgeville is an old foggy one-horse town rapidly going to decay. All her better days were over before Atlanta was born. Which is the worthier of emulation?

Everybody should go to the State Fair in Atlanta, commencing October 15th. Everything is being done to make it a great affair. Fine stock, horses, cattle, soldiers, pretty women, &c., will be numerously exhibited. All our mountain people who can, certainly ought to go, as it may be the last time they will ever get to see the Capital of the State.

The total annual average corned product of Europe, according to French statistics, is 4,294,000,000 bushels. We produce forty bushels of grain per head, estimating our population at 40,000,000, while Europe's production of grain is estimated at not quite 30,000,000, producing only twenty-six bushels per head. Great Britain produces bushels per head. We produce three times as much as we receive. Russia not twice our wants, and Great Britain not more than half our requirement. The loss of grain of course estimates the product of cereals in the United States for 1877 at about 1,500,000 bushels. For the last three years we have exported breadstuffs to the average of more than $100,000,000 per annum.

The Baptist religion is the one most extensively accepted in the world, having in round numbers, 310,000,000 adherents. There are not more Roman Catholics in the world than people of all other religious classes. The total number of Roman Catholics is about 200,000,000 against about 80,000,000 of the Greek church, 100,000,000 Protestants, and 6,000,000 of other Oriental churches. The Greek of the 1,000,000,000 people in the world, about 1,000,000,000 are not Christians, but, with the exception of the 6,000,000 Jews, who are what called heathens. It will be observed from this that there is a great field left for spread of Christian unity.

The Capital.

In the campaign now open, Atlanta and Milledgeville are two very important candidates. It is not a question about which we can be indifferent. Nearly every intelligent voter in the State has a decided preference for one place or the other. We are sorry to see that prejudice, envy, spite and malice are being lunged into the contest. Until quite recently we all thought Atlanta the liveliest city in the South, the pride of the State, worthy of all praise and commendation, and that her citizens were energetic, enterprising and public-spirited. Now she is the most abased city in the State. Her enemies say that corruption stalks abroad in her midst—that a city she is not to be trusted, that she will not comply with her contracts or propositions. We believe she will do all, and even more than she promised. Who can conscientiously doubt it? She is abundantly able—has millions of money; her bonds good as gold, and in fact is in every way worthy to be the proud city she is and the Capital of the Empire State of the South.

To carry the Capital back to Milledgeville would be a step backward—an act of retrogression—one that we cannot afford to make in this age of progress and civilization. Recovering from the effects of military rule and reconstruction, Georgia has been the most progressive of the old Confederate States, and Atlanta enterprise and Atlanta capital have contributed more to our prosperity than all the other cities in the State. Milledgeville is a nice quiet little country town, good enough in its surroundings, but not fit to be the Capital of our grand old Commonwealth. It is too late now to turn back. Atlanta must ever be our Capital and our pride.

Educated Farmers.

We have in preparation an article on the subject of "Educated Farmers" in connection with the North Georgia Agricultural College, but we find in the North Georgian, an article so exactly in accord with our ideas that we reprint it without comment:

"What north Georgia needs is educated farmers. We want to see the horn of plenty filled to overflowing; but so long as the old habits and methods of fifty years ago are followed and persisted in by our people, just so long will they be poor and hard run. Our farmers should wake up to the realization of the fact, that they are away behind their northern and western brethren in their mode of farming, agricultural implements and the amount produced per acre on the same quality of land. Then our expenses and increase of production should be the highest endeavor of every farmer until prosperity is restored.

We wish every farmer would resolve in his own mind to do five years of hard work, and see during the time how little he could live upon and how much he could save, and add to the growth of his stock and the fertility and improvement of his lands. If every one resolve upon this course the country would acquire during the time, habits and methods that would irresistably bear it on to greatness and prosperity."

But more science and skill is needed in our farming interests. We have at Dahlonega a first class school where literature and science are blended with labor. Tuition is free, and every young man in north Georgia who expects to make farming his occupation, should take a course at this school. The intention of all the Agricultural Colleges and schools, is to turn out educated farmers, and we would be glad to see tuition in those schools restricted to that class only. The Dahlonega school is within the reach of all classes, and by the habits and discipline taught and enforced there, the success of pupils is assured, who will become exemplars in every community in which they live, to whom their neighbors will look for instruction and example. If the number of young men from North Georgia were in attendance on school that ought to be, we would soon have educated farmers in every community. We need them badly. Let them be sent where they can get an education now so far north nothing will not our farming friends avail themselves of the opportunity? We hope so."

Atlanta Advertisers.

MOORE, MARSH AND CO.
In a local notice, it is very difficult to give an adequate description of the business house of the above named firm. It is the largest and most extensive Dry Goods house not only in Atlanta, but in the South. Five stories high, it has five separate departments, as follows:

1st or basement floor—Domestic and heavy goods and the like. This floor is used for packing.

2nd floor—Foreign and Domestic Dry Goods.

3rd floor—White goods, hosiery, notions, &c.

4th floor—Boots and shoes.

5th floor—Men's, boys', ladies' and misses' hats.

A hydraulic elevator runs from bottom to top, with a capacity of 2000 pounds. With such a regiment of experience and gentlemanly clerks and salesmen as busy as bees in a bar-barrel, they sell more goods than any other house in the city and are prepared to offer superior inducements to country merchants.

E. S. KENDRICK & CO.,

Are dealers in Furniture on the corner of Marietta and Broad streets. Their House is well stored with every grade and style of new furniture, with prices put down to suit the times. We advise all who want good nice furniture to buy of Messrs. Kendrick & Co., or at least, give them a trial before purchasing elsewhere.

DANIEL & MARSH,

Druggists and Apothecaries, keep on hand a large and well selected stock of paints, oils, putty and window glass, perfume and toilet articles generally and all other goods in their line.

JOHNNY DANIELS is too popular with our people to need a word of commendation from us. Their house is on Decatur street No. 12, in the Kimball House building.

No wholesale grocery house in Atlanta is better known to the merchants of North Georgia, than that of

JAMES R. WYLIE & CO.

We keep a liberal mercantile for them and hope all our merchants will trade with them.

MESSRS. TOMMEY, STEWART & BECK,

Deal extensively in everything in the hardware line. Read their advertisement, and when you go to Atlanta give them a call; corner of Pryor and Decatur streets, opposite Kimball House.

JERRY LYNCH—the MERCHANT TAILOR OF ATLANTA.

Of all the business men of the Capital of the State, regardless of the new Constitution, Mr. Lynch is probably the most universally known and patronized. Notwithstanding all the insinuations going the rounds of the press about Atlanta, the most of her people, aliens and citizens, wear clothes, good clothes, too, and nearly all these clothes are purchased at Lynch's clothing emporium, No. 8 Whitehall street. We would be glad to see every man who reads the Sundown dressed in one of his neatly fitting suits. We are morally certain that every one who tries him, will be satisfied that Jerry Lynch is not only the best and biggest Tailor in the State, but also one of the cleverest men.

NO. 4 KIMBALL HOUSE.

Among Rail Road men, Bob Mann is the best known ticket agent in the United States. He knows more about tickets and routes than any body, and in his exceedingly clever and accommodating way can furnish information to every one who seeks. All emigrants and parties wanting to go west will do well to call on him or correspond with him. He will be sure to answer your letters. Numerous to that class only. The Dahlonega school is within the reach of all classes, and by the habits and discipline taught and enforced there, the success of pupils is assured, who will become exemplars in every community in which they live, to whom their neighbors will look for instruction and example. If the number of young men from North Georgia were in attendance on school that ought to be, we would soon have educated farmers in every community. Wilson House, and if you want a good square meal and a nice, comfortable, cozy well-furnished room she can accommodate you.

GUS HAYNES,

The old reliable, is still to be found at the book store of Messrs. Phillips & Crew, No. 10 Marietta street. He deals in none but first-class goods, and as a workman has no superior in Atlanta. Special attention is called to his advertisement and special attention will be given all business entrusted to him.

Air Line Road.

It is a source of much gratification to the friends of the Atlanta and Charlotte Air Line Railroad, to note its progress and improvements. The track and road bed are in excellent condition, and their rolling stock exceeded. Their fast freight line from the North secures them an enormous freight business. As their's is the shortest and quickest line between the North and South their passengers trains are always crowded. They have the finest coaches running into Atlanta, their conductors are courteous, affable and agreeable; all their employees first class. Capt. G. J. Force, the General Manager, is one of the most efficient and successful railroad men in the South. To his able management is due its present triumph over all competing lines. Harry Cotttingham is the General Freight Agent, and W. J. Houston, General Passenger and Ticket Agent. Both are first-class gentlemen, and unsurpassed in their respective departments. This is no dead-head compliment. No man connected with our office ever had a free ride over the road. We publish their schedule for the convenience and accommodation of our readers, our visitors and the travelers to and from this section.

DANIEL & MARSH,

THE THOMASVILLE ENTERPRISE learns from some of its subscribers that cholera, or what they suppose to be cholera, is killing the hogs in different sections of the county. From a friend, who has been pasturing his hogs in an off field, to which is attached a spring pond which affords ample water and shade, the editor learns that the hogs are dying of a disease that resembles very much pneumonia in man or lung fever in a horse. The hog has rather a dull appearance, breathes as quite tired and is easily exhausted by exercise. Flesh is lost rapidly, though the appetite is retained till a few days before death, during which time the hog shows no disposition to stir and will partake of nothing except a little water. Some survive for a week or two, and others but a few days. A post-mortem examination of one showed a terribly diseased condition of the lungs and kidneys. They were in a partly effervescent purifying state, and a sufficient quantity of blood and bloody water had escaped to submerge the heart. As the question of hog raising is one of great importance to our people, we would be glad of any information relative to the care and prevention of diseases of swine that we may give our readers the benefit of. Where hogs have been successfully treated, give us the symptoms and remedies used.—Atlanta Constitution.

Some survive for a week or two, and others but a few days. A post-mortem examination of one showed a terribly diseased condition of the lungs and kidneys. They were in a partly effervescent purifying state, and a sufficient quantity of blood and bloody water had escaped to submerge the heart. As the question of hog raising is one of great importance to our people, we would be glad of any information relative to the care and prevention of diseases of swine that we may give our readers the benefit of. Where hogs have been successfully treated, give us the symptoms and remedies used.—Atlanta Constitution.

Services at the Methodist church were well attended last Sunday.

Our town was "outlived" by a chunk of a fight last Saturday.

The war between the Russians and the Turks fails to create much of a sensation in this country.

Gainesville, Atlanta, Augusta, Macon and Savannah all have street railways. Knucklesville don't have any.

Our mountain people don't take so much interest in the Indian war as they did in the "late unpleasantness."

When you go to Gainesville don't fail to go to Dr. Bradley's Drug store and see the blade of Bermuda grass grown through the Irish potato.

Some of the loveliest girls in all this mountain country are students in the North Georgia Agricultural College. "Would I were a boy again."

One of the most important features of the city of Gainesville is Dr. H. S. Bradley's Drug Store, on the east side of the public square. The Doctor deals extensively in everything pertaining to his line of business. Give him a trial and satisfy yourself that he is the most extensive house of the kind in north Georgia, outside of Atlanta. We call special attention to his advertisement.

The heirs of Dr. Benjamin Smith, deceased, recovered their old home place from McMillan & Snow at the September term of Lumpkin Superior Court, but a new trial has been granted, and the case is being carried to the Supreme Court.

Notice.

Our old friend Henry Cohen has added and is running in connection with his Confectionery a first class Baker. He will send cakes and bread fresh of all descriptions, every morning to Dahlonega, on all orders by the back.

W. A. Burnside, of the firm of J. W. & W. A. Burnside, is in Atlanta this week buying in a fall and winter stock of goods for their popular establishment in Dahlonega. At Atlanta we know, will treat him generously, and we earnestly entreat the ladies to deal gently and kindly with our good fellow.

Subscription for the SIGNAL will be received at the stores of J. W. & W. A. Burnside. All kinds of currency produce taken in payment. Anything from a cabbage head to a load of wood. The same terms are offered to those of our subscribers who are in arrears.

Now is the winter of our discontent—er—er—is it—is er—what we mean to say—the weather is getting cold—that's it—and we want some of our country subscribers or friends to bring us a load or two of wood soon. If you can't bring us in an armful of pine knots, next time you come to town.

Miss Henrietta Cunningham has been spending several days recently with her friends in Dahlonega. To spend an hour with her—in conversing sweetly and free we love to watch every smile she has.

Quite an interesting meeting has been in progress at St. Paul's Chapel, near Leather's Ford, for some time past. The meeting lasted for ten days, and sixteen sons were added to the church. Revs. Mr. Wood, Arwood, Venable and other divines labored earnestly and zealously in the cause of Christ during the entire performance.

H. H. Kimsey, Esq., a young lawyer of Cleveland, is a candidate for the Legislature in White County. Will a draft or importation have to be made to get out an opponent? People don't seem so anxious to go to the Legislature under the new Constitution as they used to. Can it be that the little difference of four dollars a day, has any effect, remote or contingent, on our patriotism?

Who struck Billy Patterson in that row last Saturday? The disorderly, intemperate men of our town are few, and we don't want to tell them, but we cannot forbear always.

The Burnside House,

Though newly opened, is fast growing in popularity and deservedly so, too. Mr. Hutchins, the proprietor, is one of the most pleasant and agreeable gentlemen in the business. He has a kind word for everybody, and all his guests are made to feel perfectly at home. His table is well furnished with "the fat of the land," his rooms are neat and clean, and his servants polite and attentive. Give him a trial and satisfy yourself that he keeps the best house in the "gold-digging."

The fourth quarterly meeting of the Dahlonega Station will be held at Dahlonega on the 5th Saturday and Sabbath in September. Conference at 3 o'clock p.m.

The fourth quarterly meeting of the Porter Spring Mission will be held in connection with the Cedar Mountain camping, which begins Thursday night before the 1st Saturday in October; closes Tuesday morning after conference Saturday 3 p.m.

The fourth quarterly meeting of the Amicalola Mission will be held in connection with Amicalola camp meeting, which begins Thursday night before the 2d Sabbath in October; closes Tuesday morning after conference Saturday 3 p.m.

Personals.

Hon. W. P. Price of Dahlonega, has been in attendance upon the Superior Court of Hall County this week.

Col. White and Messrs. Lane and Person of Cleveland Ohio have been inspecting our mines for several days. Col. White Vice President of the Hand Mining Co and is highly pleased with their mining operations.

Major J. C. Blackstock business man of the Baptist Tabernacle spent several days recently at the Burnside House. Major B. though a zealous Christian, is tickled to the Happy Land, by a different line from the one recommended by the Zionists Christian of Cumming, Ga.

The Messrs. Ned of Philadelphia, prominent Rail Road and street contractors, have been in our midst during the past week, attracted either by the vast wealth of our mines. They are large capitalists, and are so satisfied with their prospecting that we may confidently expect from them a large investment.

Dr. Little, Georgia State Geologist Dr. Smith of Alabama, Professor Huntington of New Hampshire, Thornton of New Jersey and Bradley of Georgia, were picking away at the rocks of this county two or three days of the present week. They are all distinguished Geological, geoscient and smelting scientific meeting at Nashville, have been in a wandering life in America. Their names bear, in '57 or '58, and worked by him, Gen. H. W. Riley and others. After a few months work a bill of injunction was filed by some claimant against the parties working, and the work was abandoned. It is now the property of the Hand Mining Company, who have erected just below the vein, on the Yohola river, a 24-stamp mill for crushing the ore. The vein is being worked about 400 feet above the mill. The ore is flooded into the mill by water from the old Yohola ditch, and is very rich. Only a few days ago, the ore taken from one foot of the vein yielded six hundred pounds weight of gold. Of course that was exceptional, but it is very rich all the time. The deeper it goes down on the vein, the richer it gets, the better it averages.

Messrs. Martin, Minton, and others have recently opened up a sluice near Araria. The walls are well defined, the ore good, and prospects flattering. They have erected a 5-stamp steam mill and it is in full blast. When they clean the Findley and Gaston Habeas Corpus Case.

In consequence of the ruling of Judge Lester of the Blue Ridge Circuit at the September Term of the Superior Court of the county of Lumpkin, this case is attracting considerable attention. A brief history of the case may not be uninteresting.

On the 6th day of August 1876, Findley and Gaston, as U. S. Deputy Marshals, with a force of men, made a raid on the illicit distilleries in the upper part of this county. They had captured half a dozen men, and destroyed as many stills, when they gave the information proper to the Distillery by Mr. Thomas, in a dark hole, on the side of the Blue Ridge Mountains. In their roundabout winding way to get out of the mountains, they met Mr. Thomas, who had "knocked the battle out of" the still, and was considering "discretion the better part of valor," had torn down his still, and was trying to "hide out" in a hole. His sister had the ear of the still, tied up with a string of her garments, and Thomas, with his brother had the still itself swung on a pole and were all rapidly "flashing the mouth" when the collision occurred between the still house party and the Deputy marshals. The still was abandoned, and the "doubting Thomas" was long drowsing, fled wildly down the mountain side. The marshals gave pursuit, yelling "half, half!" and fired their six shotts at the flying distillers. Thomas soon lodged himself a proteling tree, and with his old squirrel rifle was drawing bead on Gaston at a distance of 40 or 50 yards, when Findley, seeing the danger of his comrade, executed a brilliant flank movement, and with unerring aim fired on Thomas just in time to save Gaston. Thomas fell and hoisted a flag of truce. This occurred in August and at the September Term of the Court, the Grand Jury found true bills against the marshals for assault with intent to murder. Bench warrants were issued and Sheriff Satterfield arrested the parties and took bonds for their appearance at Lumpkin Superior Court April Term 1877, when their bonds were forfeited. In the mean time Judge Erskine had issued a writ of habeas corpus directed to the Sheriff of the county, demanding the prisoners and the record. The Sheriff failed to take them up and at the September Term of the Court, just passed, the case came up before Judge Lester, on a motion to transfer the cause to the U. S. Circuit court. It was argued by Col. H. P. Farrow for Findley and Gaston, and the Solicitor General, Thomas F. Greer, for the state, both arguments considered exhaustive and complete. The motion was overruled and the prisoners remained to jail. Before the motion was made, the prisoners, being each other's sureties, had delivered themselves to the Sheriff in open court.

Immediately after the opinion of the court was rendered, application was made by the prisoners' counsel for a writ of habeas corpus. The writ has been granted and served by a special U. S. Deputy marshal upon the Sheriff demanding his release and appear with the prisoners before U. S. Circuit Court in Atlanta on Monday the 24th inst.

It is scarcely a doubt that the parties would have been acquitted if our State Court could a trial have had. Mr. Thomas, however, went to the Court House in time of court, to bring up another demand for the release of another blockade runner and that wants for his urestare in the hands of the Deputy marshals. It is presumed he does not desire to meet again the system of vexations litigation will cease entirely.

The latter part of this article we earnestly commend to the citizens of Lumpkin county. There has already been too much litigation against people who have invested largely in our mining property.

For the well-being and prosperity of our country, we sincerely hope this system of vexations litigation will cease entirely.

PORTER'S FOUNDARY, ATLANTA, GA.

The wonderful popularity of the Porter & Davis pounding mill is attested by the fact that most of the mills in operation here come from their foundry. They are perfect and complete in all their apartments and models of beauty to the minuter's eye.

The usual amount of work is being done at all the mills, with an increased yield per ton. The weather for two or three days has been so bad, but little work could be done out of doors.

Mr. Jesse S. Thrasher has recently recovered from a silver and copper mine near the Chattohoochee river in Habersham county. The vein is exposed in the hill just west of section 1 of the town, and a great deal of work has been done on it by Mr. Thomas, and his son, and a number of miners.

Post-Office Rumors.

When Francis Granger was Postmaster-General he used to take great pleasure in heading off incompetent office-seekers by producing the neat and well-arranged book of the then financial officer of the department, the genial John Marr, and asking the applicant if he could keep accounts as neatly as those were kept. The question never failed to prove a settled. Judge Collamer, on assuming the charge of the department, having previously been a member of Congress, was already acquainted with some of the clerks, whom he had met in the course of his business and one day, when contemplating some removals, he had called before him, among others, Mr. Marr, at present chief clerk of the Appointment Office. In a half-serious, half-jovial manner, the judge said:

"Well Mr. Marr, do you think the department could get along without you?"

The quick answer was evidently free from much apprehension of danger: "I don't know now that may be, judge; but I know that I couldn't get a long way well without the department."

He was retained.

A young man in Chicago was recently found dead in his bed, and the supposition was that he had committed suicide by poison; but upon analyzing the contents of his stomach, nothing but the following were found in it:

Pickles, pound cake, lemonade, cold turkey, lager beer, fried oysters, cold punch, ham sandwich, sponge cake, beef tea, mince pie, champagne, lobsters, game pie, fruit cake, tea, duckie salad, whisky, coffee, bolona sausage, pot pie, cheese, sardines and sherry. The jury returned a verdict of "Died through the visitation of friends."

A dispatch dated at Cleveland, O., September 13, says that a cattle plague, thought to be a species of Texas fever, has broken out among cattle in the surrounding country. Texas cattle are covered with ticks of two varieties. Their bite is poisonous to the blood. Many cattle are dying daily, and several cases of children having been poisoned by drinking infected milk have already come to the notice of city physicians. The beef is affected by this disease but can easily be detected by the spots on it. The disease is said to be very infectious.

Western obituary of Brigham: "Our telegraph dispatches contain notice of the death of the old Mormon prophet and reprobate, Brigham Young. While many of the papers will print columns of eulogy and history, mostly taken from some encyclopedias, we shall dismiss the subject by simply exulting that our country and civilization have been relieved of its worst and most disgusting blot, and hell received a dose that will make it bubble with delight for months to come."

A bottle has run aground near Melbourne after a voyage of thirty-five years. On April 16, 1842, a passenger by the ship Kolo, bound from London to Sydney, threw into the sea a bottle containing a memorandum requesting the finder to report for the sake of ascertaining the currents. The question can now be answered.

Three miles of cars are standing on the tracks at Altoona, all filled with "scraps" from the ruins of round houses, rolling stock, etc., destroyed by fire in Pittsburg by the rioters.

Circassian women are selling their glorious hair in order to provide funds for the wounded soldiers. Some of their tresses, four feet two inches long are sold in London.

Bellefonte people are agitating the question of the passage of an ordinance to keep boys under eighteen years of age off the streets after eight o'clock in the evening.

Belle Boyd, who figured so extensively during the war as a scout for the Confederate forces, is now living at Calvert, Texas, and supports herself and sister by sewing.

New York ton house inspectors have been taking bribes, which is common. Six of them have been caught at it, which is uncommon.

TUTT'S PILLS A Noted Divine says They are worth their weight in gold.

READ WHAT HE SAYS:

Dr. TUTT.—Dear Sir: For ten years I have been a martyr to Dyspepsia, Constipation, &c., and have tried every remedy to me I used them (but with little faith). I am now in full health, and am able to eat a perfect, regular, scald, pills gone, and I have given up my pills, and I have given up my pills, and their weight in gold.

R. R. L. SIMPSON, Louisville, Ky.

Dr. Tutt has been engaged in the practice of medicine for over twenty years, and for a long time past has been a noted authority on Medicine in the South. His practice has been extensive, and those using his Pills have been numerous, and those who have prepared them have been numerous, and are free from all quackery.

Dr. Tutt's success has been due to his conscientious qualities of a physician, and his knowledge of Herbs & Physiognomy.

It is to be hoped that the physician will continue to increase his practice by continuing to use his Pills.

Mountain Signal.

B. J. DAVIS, Editor.

DAHLONEGA, GA., SEPTEMBER 28, 1877

The N. G. A. College.

Since the commencement exercises of our mountain institute in July last, so much has been written and published in its praise and commendation, that laudation by us would seem superfluous. We doubt if any similar institute ever had more difficulties to contend with, more obstacles to surmount, yet her career has been upward and onward, and its wonderful growth and present popularity is a monument of honor to its noble founder. It supplies a want long felt in this section of the State, and its usefulness, the good it accomplishes is acknowledged by all. The Fall term opened on the first Monday in September, and its deservedly high reputation is attested by the return of nearly all the old students, and an influx of new ones.

From quite a lengthy article in the Macon Telegraph & Messenger, we append the following extract. May the efforts of our friends in that worthy city be as "bread cast upon the waters."

"Too much praise cannot be awarded to President Lewis for his untiring devotion to the North Georgia College. Indeed, its progress and success seems to be the one idea of his existence. His associates also are said to be equally deserving, and fully competent to the discharge of their duties. Only one of them, Professor B. Palme Gaillard, is personally known to the writer. This gentleman is descended from an ancient South Carolina Huguenot family, and we know him to be a thorough scholar and model instructor in all respects.

"Georgia should be proud of this valuable auxiliary to her noble University and uphold it with no niggard hand.

In conclusion, we beg leave to say, that a movement is on foot to raise a library by the donation of books and cash subscriptions, for the North Georgia College. All contributions to that end will be thankfully received, and we are authorized to say that Mr. J. L. Saulsbury will take charge of, and send to their proper destination all sums or volumes bestowed for that purpose. We trust the response from Macon will be generous."

A Noble Letter from a Noble Old Patriot.

ATLANTA, GA., Sept. 13, 1877.

Dear Lewis: Your letter has been received. I enclose one thousand dollars of the Gilmer Fund, to the use of your College, payable at sight to the order of Mr. Wm. H. Jones, treasurer. I know it will bring forth a fruit expected by our noble friend, the doctor.

I have used the fund as a sacred trust, I part with the interest with entire confidence in its faithful application.

With best wishes for your Institute, for yourself, and for your family, I am truly your friend,

R. Toombs.

The deposit of one thousand dollars referred to in the foregoing letter was made in conformity to the testator's mind, in conformity to the following order or deed, to-wit:

"At a meeting of the Trustees of the Gilmer Education Fund, under the will of the Hon. George R. Gilmer, deceased, it is directed that Robert Toombs, who holds the funds of said trust estate, shall pay the amount which he has received up to date for the year ending 1st September next, over to the treasurer of the North Georgia Agricultural College, and that said payments be continued from year to year, until further order of said Trustees.

(Signed) ROBERT TOOMBS,
A. H. STEPHENS,
CHAS. JENKINS,
W. M. COOPER,
W. L. MICHENER.

While the above order was being signed by the Trustees at Atlanta, in Mr. Stephens' room in the Kimball House on the 4th of August last, an eye-witness of the scene informs us that the following words fell from the lips of two of them:

Mr. Toombs said that he had in the course of a long professional life, been called upon to guard and execute important trusts for dear deceased friends, but that he had never performed any such act that gave him more pleasure than that which he was now executing, "for I know," said he, "if the dear old patriot and statesman was himself here witnessing this act, he would say, 'well done good and faithful friends.'"

Then responded the soft-toned, silvery ringing voice of Mr. Stephens: "Yes, and it ought to be known that Toombs has, by his energy and watchfulness, saved and collected all that has been saved of this Gilmer gift to the cause of education, and that he has never charged one cent for fees or expenses in cured by him in this service."

There is little for us to add to the incidents and facts given above—facts in which there is so much to make swell and grow warm the breast of a man who loves his country—his State, we mean, and who loves his State the more for her virtue and energy.

One thought crosses our mind, the utterance of which will be pardoned. Our College has received many high endorsements. The names of Gov. Smith, Gov. Colquitt, Gen. Young, Col. Billups, Senator Hill, Governor Brown, Alexander, Stephens and Bishop Pierce, have all made utterances of which the friends of the institution may well be proud. But of the endorsements of the institution, the unit act of these two Gilmer trustees is perhaps the greatest. Take the names of these trustees, their character, their talents, their services to the State, and then consider the deed, the act they have performed, and what more can be said of praise or commendation to the College.

The Presidential Party in Atlanta.

From a report of the arrival of the presidential party in Atlanta, we extract the following from the Atlanta Constitution. The speeches were too numerous and lengthy to be copied in our small paper:

By half past ten o'clock the space in front of the Marham house was filled with crowds of eager and interested spectators. Every avenue and street was occupied. The porters and waiters of the hotel were enlivened by the fair faces and gay costumes of our ladies, which together with fluttering flags and festoons of gold bunting, in the rear of the station, and up to the reception room, where the distinguished guests, formed a fitting and picturesque background for the surging crowd which had gathered to meet our president. The president, early in the morning, had gathered his suite of men in the rooms of a committee, who were escorting them over the city in carriages, and the procession of vehicles made quite an imposing spectacle. The arrival of the Marham party became to her reflective mind the mother of contemplation with the Dr. Mrs. She then walked through the temple of Nature she own interpreter. The chemistry of a people, the astronomy of a planet, the philosophy of an ocean, all fed to her. Whatever system of mental discipline, therefore, that will secure vigorous and independent thought should be adopted as part of the intellectual training necessary to make her a truly cultured woman. If possible, her library should be adorned by the "Moss and Ivy" of antiquity—her mind should be enriched with all the furniture of classical and historical knowledge—her brow crowned with laurels of poetry—then her eye will sparkle with the light of cultivated intellect, her conversation be rich with its beautiful and eloquent perceptions.

Possessing then the seed of knowledge in such profusion, should be sown carefully in the tender soil, guarded with loving care, so they may attain a glorious perfection.

When the youthful mind has once felt the pleasure of intellectual research—he drank deep in the poetic life imbibed at Castalia's fountain, the love of learning becomes irresistible. When once the young, with their bright eyes, have beheld the glory, and their delighted ears drunk in the music of Heaven's eloquent astronomer, nothing but the mind's eclipse can suppress their longing for intellectual pursuit. Vague and shadowy visions of loveliness, barely visible to me before, now become bright and glorious images of beauty—inspiration is derived from the smallest star as well as the brightest constellation, with a love for the beautiful in Nature and Art, cultivated for profit and pleasure—a mind stored with the classical beauties of the Latin and Grecian poets, it cannot fail to make its impress on the world.

"Educated Woman."

The author of an article on this subject in the Oglethorpe Echo writes so sensibly and beautifully, we give space to a lengthy extract, and hope it will be read by all who are interested in educational subjects.

"She is a lion, bear in new earth and heaven, pursuing fountain in frost countries. The bounteous and sublime; here, hard in hand, and here, soft in heart."

Napoleon once asked a distinguished authoress what France must need to make her a stable government? Her answer was, "Educated Mothers." It is such that Woman's influence is so supreme in molding the minds of her sons that she is the bright polar star that leads them on to victory, thus securing for them a happy government, then indeed she should try to overcome all obstacles that stand in her path to intellectual renown. The task assigned her is not small—to her is entrusted the tiny bud, fresh from the bosom of its maker. Whether dwarfs and dandies away into insignificance, or expands into a beauteous blossom, complete in its glorious perfection, is due much to the cultivation she gives it.

Having such an important mission to perform, her understanding ought to have the benefit of the most thorough discipline—she should learn to analyze, combine and generalize. Every system of logic, mode of reasoning and process of thought should be accurately studied so as to detect the sophistry of an argument, or absurdity of a proposition. Every crystal flower, laden with brilliant dew drops, every gory rainbow that embraces the smiling earth, every burning sun, green pasture and running brook, become to her reflective mind the mother of contemplation with the Dr. Mrs. She then walks through the temple of Nature she own interpreter.

The chemistry of a people, the astronomy of a planet, the philosophy of an ocean, all feed to her. Whatever system of mental discipline, therefore, that will secure vigorous and independent thought should be adopted as part of the intellectual training necessary to make her a truly cultured woman. If possible, her library should be adorned by the "Moss and Ivy" of antiquity—her mind should be enriched with all the furniture of classical and historical knowledge—her brow crowned with laurels of poetry—then her eye will sparkle with the light of cultivated intellect, her conversation be rich with its beautiful and eloquent perceptions.

Possessing then the seed of knowledge in such profusion, should be sown carefully in the tender soil, guarded with loving care, so they may attain a glorious perfection.

WASHINGTON, September 24.—Shortly before noon a fire broke out in the conservatory above the model room of the patent office building, and at 12:30 the entire upper portion of the west wing at the building fronting on Ninth street, was in flames and the fire crept along between the ceiling and roof towards the north wing and main building on F street. The land office is directly under the portion where the fire is raging, but it is thought the valuable papers and records will be saved, and the fire is confined to the upper stories.

All the fire engines of the district and several from Baltimore are at the scene of the conflagration, the latter having reached Washington in about twenty minutes.

The P street front of the patent office was saved. The building on 9th and G street is unburned. The upper part of the building, she left under the roof, was mostly filled with immense piles of papers and documents from the bureaus in the lower part of the building, while the upper story paper, under the loft, contained probably the finest collection of models in the world, which it is impossible to replace, as many of them date back to the early days of the patent office.

These were also on this floor large numbers of maps, etc.

These all went to the fire, but the water played sad havoc with the books and papers below. Relics of General Washington and the original declaration of independence, were saved. Many other articles were carried from the model room.

The damage to the building is variously estimated from three to five hundred thousand dollars, while that resulting from the loss of models and other valuable connected with the patent office proper is almost incalculable.

Gen. Howard says he is right on the heels of the Indians. There is nothing very cheering about this, however. We have a man right on the heels of a mule, but he is not likely to be getting much the better of two days.

One of the Most Daring Robberies on Record.

Cheyenne, M. T., September 19.—Big Spring's station, where the robbery of the express train was committed last night, is a water station 102 miles east of this place. There are only two houses there besides the station. The robbers came to the station in the evening and took possession of everything, tore the telegraph instruments out, and threw them away. A red light was then hung out to stop the train which reached there at 11 o'clock. On the conductor's stepping off to see what was wanted, he was confronted by men armed with revolvers who ordered him to throw up his hands. The engineer and firemen were secured and a guard placed at the end of the coach. The station agent was compelled to knock on the express door, and on its being opened for him the robbers rushed in and overpowered messenger Miller and took possession of the car. They secured $65,000 in coin and about $500 in currency from the express car. The through safe which is stationary and has a combination lock, they left untouched. It contained a large sum. The passengers in the coaches were then visited and relieved of their cash and valuables.

It is stated that $1,300 in cash and four gold watches were taken from the passengers. The arrival of a freight train evidently interfered with their plans, for after putting out the fire in the locomotive of the express, they mounted and rode away without disturbing the occupants of the sleeping car. To-day the Union Pacific railroad and Express Companies offered a reward of $10,000 for the arrest of the thieves and the recovery of the money.

Gov. Hampton's speech at Rockford has caused a great sensation, and adds another woe to Jim Blaine's burden. The Missouri Republican says: "Whether Southern influence in national politics is a thing to be proud of in the North as well as in the South—in Illinois as well as in South Carolina. There are Northern orators who can play on special Northern feeling better than he; but he is no Northern man who can elicit more hearty response from the old American spirit."

On the way from Cincinnati to Louisville an old man made an impromptu speech to the President, as he shook his hand, which had the pith of a two column oration in it. Said he, "They are building a bridge up here that they say is the largest in the world, but I tell 'em that you are doing better than that—you are building a bridge that reaches across the bloody chasm. God bless you for it."

The war in the east goes along with more Russian effect. In every engagement of any consequence so far, the Turks have been successful, and we hope the day will soon arrive when there will not be a live Russian or Dutchman on Turkish soil.

Gen. Geo. B. McClellan has been nominated by the Democrats of New Jersey as their candidate for Governor, and he accepts the nomination. Of all the men who fought the South McClellan is one of the best, bravest and truest.

The New York Times seems to have altogether abandoned its campaign theory of the rapid destruction of Southern negroes by midnight murder, and now holds that it is their "extravagant, vicious and dissolute habits which are rapidly undermining their existence as a race."

An exchange says: If the editor of a country newspaper could get verbal promises discounted at bank rates, he would be on intimate terms with the Rothschild family inside of two days.

Gen. Howard says he is right on the heels of the Indians. There is nothing very cheering about this, however. We have a man right on the heels of a mule, but he is not likely to be getting much the better of two days.

Mr. Montgomery Sours, the wealthy young Bostonian, who was married the other day to Miss Chaote, gave his bride a wedding present of a residence costing $110,000.

Local Items

Aaron Woody, the Dan Boone of the mountains, killed after fine deer last Saturday.

A friend of ours from estates District reports a "power seance" in his settlement, in the up part of this county.

Joe Hartis and Miss Ida and Master Bill of Paris, Fr., were registered at the Burnside this week.

Charlie Thomas of Atlanta, is on one of his semi-occasional tours through the mountains. Dahomey people are always to see him.

Two hundred and fifty bushels of sweet potatoes to the acre! That's the way Mrs. Susan Davis raises them—great big ones, of the red Spanish variety.

Mr. T. C. Harden and lady, of Savannah, Ga., have been spending a portion of the summer at Porter Springs. They were in our "gold town" one day this week, registered at the Burnside House.

Somebody has been stealing corn-field beans. Four contiguous farms on Cain Creek were robbed recently. In the language of the immortal Grant "we have peas." Don't rob us of everything.

About the middle of June we brought from Atlanta a Florida watermelon, from the seed of which we ate yesterday a nice melon grown on Cain Creek. How is that for two in one year?

We learn from some of our farmers that the caterpillar is numerous in the land—that is, more so than usual. Their abundance at present is regarded as an unfavorable omen for crops next year.

The thanks of this office are due Miller Davis for a fine watermelon. Though late in the season, it was delicious. Plenty more of the same sort to be had at the stores of Messrs. Sitten & Bro. and John A. Parker.

We had a very pleasant call one day last week from Mr. Hobley, a prominent lawyer of Fairburn, Ga. Mr. M. is a thoroughly practical man, possessed of good sound ideas and principles, and is a fine scholar.

According to a table of altitude given in a condensed time card of the Piedmont Air Line R'd, Dahlonega is 1,187 feet higher than Atlanta and 2,305 feet higher than Savannah, while Porter Springs is 7,63 feet higher than Dahlonega.

Notice.

Our kind friend Henry Cohen, has added, and is running in connection with his Confectionery, a first class Bakery. He will send cake and bread fresh of all descriptions, every morning to Dahlonega, on all orders by the pack.

WA. Burnside, and President Hay and his cabinet were in Atlanta earlier last Saturday. What a jollying the boys must have had! This meeting was a terrible blow to the young ladies. Burnside fell in with the President's wife.

Yeg Joe Parker, a son of the Hon. John A. Parker of Dahlonega, was at Concord camp ground last night, of sixteen dollars in greenback. Some pious thief filched the sum from his pocket while he was asleep in the tent of a good brother.

We are under obligations to W. B. Esp., the able and efficient agent of the Findlay mine, whose favors. Mr. Price is a soldier in the mine he was a most pleasant companion.

His notice was accidental (diminished from last week's issue) and the tent of a good brother.

The ball we set in motion last week about candidates for the Legislature, grows largely as it rolls. Since then, the following gentlemen have been spoken of: Hon. Wier Boyd, Hon. W. H. McAfee, J. W. Barnside, B. F. Sitten, James J. Evans, Hon. W. P. Price, Wm. Abercrombie Hon. B. H. Corbin and others too tedious to mention.

Taylor Dowdy steps to the front with a sample of the finest home-made syrup we have seen. It is pronounced equal to the New Orleans syrup. Wm. Crow, for whom it was made, is an old experienced hand at the business and assisted in making the sample shown us. A young son of John W. Satterfield is an assistant superintendent at Mr. Dowdy's mill.

Mr. Ed. Neal, living near Porter Spring, sustained some serious injuries last Thursday. He had started to town when his horse ran away from the buggy, tore up things generally, kicked and bruised Mr. Neal and crippled him up severely. Mr. Ed. has our prayers for his speedy recovery.

The machinery for Mr. Stowe's plowing mill is arriving. The purchase of a site was made some time ago from Mrs. Susan Davis, and the mill located. The machinery is now being put up and the dam being erected. Mr. Blanchard is connected with Mr. Stowe in the enterprise. Success to them.

The dam at Wimpey's mill is down, and it will be a week or two before it is repaired, so that grinding can be done. The mill, on account of its close proximity to town, was a great convenience. Its patrons, in fact, are to be found all over the county, and are all inconvenienced more or less by this dam trouble.

Jim Harris, "mine host" of Porter Springs, made us a very pleasant call on Monday of this week. The Springs, he reports, are almost deserted, there remaining only about fifteen or twenty boarders. Several parties passed through town this week on their return trip. The waster of the Springs and their wonderful medicinal properties are universally praised.

Messrs. Porter & Meakin, as successors to Porter & Davis, of Atlanta, Ga., are still manufacturing their celebrated spinning mill. Their's is the most popular mill of the kind in these diggings, and in there is a prospect of an increased demand for stamp mills in this section, we bespeak for them a liberal share of patronage. Read their advertisement and give them a chance.

Wm. H. Cook and Joseph P. Parker, Esq., have purchased the county right for the counties of Lumpkin and Dawson of the Granger gate. It is being sold by Mr. R. L. Porter of Knoxville, Tennessee, general agent for this State. The gate is admirably adapted to the use and convenience of our farmers, and is so cheap that every farmer in the land can afford to use it, and cannot afford to do without it. The connection of these gentlemen with the enterprise is sufficient guarantee that there is no humbuggery about it. Don't take our word for it, but call and examine it for yourself. For the present, the model is on exhibition at John A. Parker's store and Mr. Cook will take pleasure in explaining the modus operandi to all inquiring friends.

Sensible Advice.

You are asked every day through the column of newspapers and by your Druggist to use something for your Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint that you know nothing about you get discouraged spending money with but little success. Now to give you satisfactory proof that Green's Acidous Flower will cure you of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint with all its effects, such as stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Constiveness, palpitation of the Heart, Heartburn, Water-brash, Fullness at the pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue, Indigestion, swimming of the head, low spirits &c. we ask you to go to your Druggist J. W. & W. A. Burnside and get a Sample Bottle of Green's AUGUST Flower for 10 cents and try it, or a regular size for 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you.

The N. Y. Tribune says: The press of Georgia is unanimous and carries in advocating the nomination of Herschel V. Johnson for the vacancy in the United States supreme court. If a southern man is to be chosen, it would be difficult to make a better selection. Judge Johnson has won the merited approval of all parties by his impartial conduct on the bench in Georgia, and has shown that he can perform the difficult task of forgetting that he is a politician when he is acting a judge.

Mrs. Jas. R. Lawton has presented us with some beautiful jelly made of watermelon rinds, that is too nice for us poor folks to eat. Nevertheless we return our sincere thanks and will remember the kindness, "in the sweet bye and bye."

Musical Information.

Every musical family that desires to keep posted as to the important events that are transpiring in the musical world, should regularly read the good musical magazine, and equal to the New Orleans syrup. Mining News.

The mines of North Georgia and of the mining belt extending from Virginia to Florida, are now attracting the attention of capitalists. Wherever the North Georgia mines have been prospected they prove as rich as most of the celebrated mines of the West. Parties from New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and Cleveland, who have heretofore invested in the mines of California, Nevada, Utah and Idaho are now turning their attention here, being fully satisfied that our mines offer greater facilities to the capitalist, and can be made more remunerative than those at a distance.

At the present time there are quartz mills in active operation, within an area of seven miles of Dahlonega, carrying 87 stamps. There are also 4 mills now being built, which will have 55 stamps at work by the 1st of January next.

THE BENNING MILL,

of 10 stamps continues in full operation. It has a magnificent water power, with all the facilities for working. The vein of rich ore is wide and well defined.

THE OLD HAND MILL,

of 20 stamps is operating steadily on one from the cut with a splendid average yield. The magnificent sand vein which abounds in fine gold is being steadily worked by the hydraulic process, with great success.

THE PINDELL MILL,

of 24 stamps is operating steadily on one from the cut with a splendid average yield. The magnificent sand vein which abounds in fine gold is being steadily worked by the hydraulic process, with great success.

THE NEW YORK MILL,

of 9 stamps, continues in full operation. The yield during the past month is nearly double that of the previous month.

THE OGLE MILL,

of 5 stamps, (the Pigron Roost Mine) under the able superintendence of Mr. McAfee, continues as heretofore, to yield well.

THE M'INTOSH AND CO.'S MILL

of 5 stamps, near Aurora is running regularly and doing well, yielding about ten pennies weight to the ton.

THE AURORA CO. MILL

Williams, Davis & Co., proprietors, are piping from the top of the vein—as the 10 stamp mill is not finished. The washings prove that the yield from the ore, when worked in a mill, will be very satisfactory.

THE WEAVER AND WHITE MILL, on Bagg's Branch, is doing well. Water is still low, and the mill is run only a part of the time.

In the course of a few years, we may expect to see all along the line of the Chestatee and Yougha rivers, quartz mills crushing the auriferous ore which abounds in the mountain ridges, extending from Dahlonega to Aurora, and throughout the country.

Gentlemen from New York, Philadelphia and Cleveland are now preparing to locate mills within a short distance of Dahlonega, and those mills now in operation are preparing to add to the number of stamp mills now working. Everything indicates a lively fall and a livelier spring. The mines in the adjoining counties are, from all accounts, doing well, and the outlook is very favorable.

Mining in Georgia is yet in its infancy, yet sufficient has been done to prove that in no other way can capital be invested by English capitalists in mining property in the United States, and the percentage has been steadily increasing since then.

Our thanks are due to The Mining Record and the Engineering and Mining Journal for notices of our mines.

We propose from time to time to publish mining extracts, and to give all the information we possibly can, of a reliable nature, of the yield and general prospects of our mines, and would be thankful for any information from parties throughout the State of their mining operations, character of mine, capacity of mill, whether worked by steam or water-power, number of stamps, yield per ton of quartz, and yield of placer ground per square yard.

The Miss. Neal of Philadelphia, purchased a large amount of gold mining property this week, within half a mile of Dahlonega including among others the well known Wall lot. We predict the acquisition of these capitals will be of great advantage to Dahlonega. The gentlmen are honorable, liberal and enterprising and we hope to see the right hand of friendship cordially extended them. Let them know that they are not only heartily welcome but that we are anxious to have them amongst us.

A correspondent of the Poultry says: "I do not know whether other persons who raise poultry and pet birds are as much dependent as I am on red pepper, but I have found so much benefit from its use in the poultry yard and cages, that it may not be amiss to call the attention of others to its good properties. I do not speak of the article that is sold in drug stores (and sometimes not very markedly fresh) but of the capsicum that grows in our gardens. I have tried all the different varieties, and find the most pungent and efficacious is the small kind usually known by the name of 'bird's pepper.' The plant in itself is a beautiful object, it grows about two feet high, and in autumn its bright little scarlet berries look like coral beads peeping from under the dark green foliage. Indeed, one plant in a pot makes a very pretty ornament for a flower stand. The seed possesses a stimulating and reviving property, and I find that two or three given to newly hatched chickens, especially if they are weakly, have a most happy effect. If a hen looks feeble after molting, six of these berries or pods given daily in some corn meal and sweet milk improves her wonderfully. Last summer two of my finest canaries began to droop. Every day I gave them each one seed of the 'bird's pepper,' and in less than a week they were quite well. The same remedy is invaluable for mocking birds.

Perplexed in the Extreme.

A tramp sat on a doorstep block in Pine street yesterday afternoon, when 'parl' came up.

"What's the matter with you, Ja' cob?"

"I'm in doubt, I'm in doubt."

"In doubt; what about?"

"Well, Henry, I went to that alley gate up there to get something to eat. I might ask some thang's thid'd happen, for thers was a dead body agut layin' on the flower bed, and a liniment man with the side of his head all caved in leavin' up agin the peach tree."

"Well?"

"You see, I allers wuz venturin' an' axed a woman standin' there would she give me a rhubarb pie and a piece of fresh shad."

"Well what happened then?"

"Now, Henry, that's what I'm in doubt about. I don't seem to make out whether the back porch fell down on me, or I stepped on a log of dynamite, and it busted under me. Why, Henry, I'd sooner work half an hour than go into that yard again."—Eastern Free Press.

Sale of the North and South Railroad.

On the 4th inst., the North and South Railroad, of this State, was sold in pursuance of an order of Governor Colquitt, to secure the sum upon the road for its bonds for $350,000. Under agreement the State was entitled to receive her pay first, and the city of Columbus next. Col. Miller, the representative of the mean monopoly, the Central, but lively for it; but it was knocked off to Col. R. J. Moses for $40,500. In future it is to be called the Columbus and Atlanta line. It is the intention of the owners to complete it to Hamilton via Greenville and to Atlanta. This will put another feather in the Gate City's cap.—Conn. Register.

Abolishing the President.

A Washington dispatch says that several numerously signed memorials will be presented to Congress when it meets proposing to abolish the Presidency and substitute therefor an Executive Council of State, or Cabinet, to be composed of seven Secretaries, without any superior officer, all to have equal authority. Four of the Council are to be elected by the house and three by the Senate from members of their respective Houses, the term of office to be two years, and the House and Senate having each the right at any time to remove either or all the members elected by it. The members of the Council are to have all the rights of members in both Houses.
